A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his medicines are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomachs, liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled, also, containing a standard medical work, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receiving the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral acids or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, was known to the Indians as "Sagwa-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was derived from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the system and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

KILLED BY CYCLONES.

A wind of cyclonic proportions swept over portions of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama late yesterday, leaving a trail of dead and injured. The number of killed is estimated at close to a hundred, and the number of injured at over a hundred, with many portions of the afflicted districts to be heard from.

Most of the dead are negroes. Perhaps a dozen white persons were caught in falling buildings and either fatally injured or so seriously disabled as to require medical attention.

The loss of life was chiefly in the quarters of colored persons, where the wind destroyed their cabins, burying the occupants in the debris, or in the farming sections of the country, where trees were uprooted, telegraph and telephone poles torn up and general destruction became an ensue to a storm which swept with almost tornado fury through the country.

In Louisiana it is estimated that a score of small towns were destroyed or partly wrecked. They include Amite City, Arcadia and Independence, Belle Grove, Melton, Lorman, Pine Ridge, Quitman Landing, Fairchild Creek, Purvis and Lumberton, Miss., are reported seriously damaged by the storm.

In Alabama, Dora was the chief sufferer. This town is also known as Bergen. Four or more persons were killed. Fifty persons at the lowest estimate were injured.

At Bergen cars were blown from the railroad tracks, and considerable other property destroyed.

Reports also says that the storm struck Albertville, Ala., late yesterday afternoon and destroyed nearly the entire northern portion of the town. A cotton mill was blown down, the storm razing northward doing much destruction to life and property. An unconfirmed report from that section gives the death list as from 30 to 35, with scores of persons injured.

From Meridian, Miss., comes a report that two persons were killed and one seriously injured.

Richland and Lamourie, La., were struck by the storm and nearly a fifth of their population injured.

Winchester, Miss., a small town, is reported wiped out, though only two persons are known to have been killed.

Natchez, Miss., reports 60 are known to be dead in the northern Louisiana storm. Hundreds of plantation cabins are reported destroyed in that section.

Mobile reported nine dead in Hattiesburg, Miss.

At Mason, Tenn., the Methodist Church was blown down, and the parsonage adjoining that structure destroyed. The Presbyterian and Episcopal churches were both practically destroyed and several houses were blown down.

In Memphis the wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. It uprooted shade trees, blew down telegraph and telephone wires and forced in plate-glass windows.

Reports from the scene of Thursday night's tornado in northern Nebraska show that twelve farm houses and twenty other buildings were destroyed and that over 100 head of live stock were killed.

At least fourteen persons received injuries, some of them serious.

Twenty-two buildings were destroyed by a tornado which Thursday evening struck Valley Springs, near Sioux Falls, S. Dak., but no loss of life resulted.

DEATH OF THE DUKE DE CHAULNES.

The death of the Duke de Chaulnes in Paris will be rigidly investigated by the authorities of the French government.

The report sent out yesterday morning that he had been found dead in bed by his wife, formerly Miss Theodora Shontz, of New York and Washington, is now said to have been untrue.

The duke, who was living at the Langham Hotel with his wife, had finished a late dinner with a guest, Baron Lepie, at about 10 o'clock Thursday night. The baron left the room for a few moments and when he returned, the duchess cried, "Come quickly. Emmanuel has fainted. I don't know what's the matter with him."

A physician was summoned and he pronounced death due to embolism.

This is the version now given, which contradicts the report sent out yesterday morning, when it was announced that the duke had died a natural death in bed, and that his death was not discovered until several hours after, when his wife awoke to find life extinct.

The manager of the Langham Hotel in Paris last night said: "The duke

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1892 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold in Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. N. Correll, Redding, Ga., Aug. 27, 1906." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

and duchess were preparing to retire Thursday evening, when the duke fell. The duchess believed he had fainted, and summoned help. When those present were not able to relieve him, a doctor was summoned, who pronounced death due to heart disease."

These conflicting reports have thrown an air of mystery about the death, which is giving rise to sensational rumors.

The Paris Matin, in a long article, says that after the duke's marriage, his morphine and opium habits, with which it is now learned he had been addicted for the past eight years, not only continued, but grew worse.

A physician who examined the body said death was certainly natural, but that it was hastened by the excessive use of morphine.

The Matin adds that his old creditors crowded around him, seeking payment, only to find an administrator, who, invariably using the same formula, said:

"All I can offer you is the homage of my sympathy. I have no funds to pay you."

The duke married under a regime of separate property. His personal property was in no wise increased by his marriage.
